PRESIDENTIAL NOTE

It gives me pleasure and a deep sense of responsibility to present SAA's Annual Report for 2025–26—my first as President.

As SAA completes nearly three decades, we look back with gratitude and ahead with renewed purpose. Our work remains rooted in the belief that recovery is possible and that every person living with mental illness deserves dignity, acceptance and opportunity.

This year focused on strengthening existing initiatives, expanding community participation and preparing SAA for its next phase.

Moving beyond the Centre

Our rehabilitation programmes continued to support the holistic development of our shubharthis through peer support, therapeutic activities, workshops, celebrations, excursions and community events.

Visits to Aga Khan Palace, Khadi Gram Udyog School, Tri Mandir, Necklace Point, Bhor Rajwada and Nature Nestt Agro Resort encouraged confidence, social participation and belonging. Exhibitions and programmes with SNDT College and Prarambha Organization for Disabled further extended this work beyond SAA.

Reaching the next generation

Through the "Bridging Theory and Practice for Mental Health Care Beginners" workshop, conducted for students of SNDT College, Modern College, MIT College (Loni Kalbhor), Symbiosis College, and MIT College (Kothrud), along with other workshops, around 400 students gained a recovery-oriented understanding of mental illness, rehabilitation

Strengthening families

Peer Support Groups remained a vital resource, offering caregivers and persons living with mental illness a safe space to share, learn and seek guidance.

Sessions addressed crisis management, occupational therapy, dance movement therapy, women's mental health, self-care, nutrition and caregiving.

Awareness and advocacy

SAA observed World Schizophrenia Day, Erwadi Day, Family Caregivers' Day and Mental Health Week through programmes on human rights, caregiving and community awareness. The Mental Health-themed Kirtan brought these messages to a wider audience through a familiar cultural medium.

Building SAA's future

The SAA website was revamped, strengthening our digital presence. I sincerely acknowledge Vice President Rtn. Prashant Kulkarni for his important contribution.

Work also continued towards establishing a Residential Rehabilitation Facility, with the goal of making it a reality in 2027. SAA's 29-year journey has been documented in 29 Springs, published by Sakal Publications. The book will be launched on 10 October 2026

Carrying the legacy forward

SAA's progress reflects the dedication and collective efforts of our Shubharthis, caregivers, trustees, professionals, staff, volunteers, and well-wishers. My special thanks go to our generous donors—Subhash and Sarita Gaitonde Charitable Foundation, Geeta Tamhankar, Vibhavari Athawale, Anand Apte, Beej Mithani, Abhay Kele, and Vivek Pande—for their valuable support. The inclusion of new, like-minded trustees brings fresh energy to the organisation while honouring and carrying forward the vision of our founder, Late Dr. Jagannath Wani. Much remains to be done. We must continue strengthening rehabilitation, expanding mental health awareness, empowering caregivers, and creating meaningful opportunities for community participation.

I thank the entire SAA family for its trust and support during my first year as President.

Let us carry SAA forward with compassion, courage and hope.

Ujwal Kele
President
Schizophrenia Awareness Association

SECRETARY'S REPORT

As I take on the responsibility of Secretary of the Schizophrenia Awareness Association,I do so with a deep sense of privilege and responsibility.

SAA's journey has always been about much more than activities and programmes—it is about enabling persons living with mental illness to recover, participate, and live with dignity and inclusion.

The year 2025–26 has been one of continued engagement and meaningful activity. Our efforts have focused on the rehabilitation and well-being of our Shubharthis, support for caregivers, awareness and advocacy, and creating opportunities for greater social participation. Regular peer support meetings, therapeutic activities, excursions, celebrations and community programmes have provided valuable opportunities for confidence building, social interaction and self-reliance.

We have also strengthened our engagement with mental health professionals and educational institutions. The "Bridging Theory and Practice for Mental Health Care Beginners" workshops have helped students gain practical exposure to recovery-oriented mental health care and the role of rehabilitation. In addition, workshops on Rational Emotive Behaviour Therapy (REBT), Transactional Analysis (TA), and Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT) were conducted, providing participants with an understanding of different therapeutic approaches and their application in mental health care.

While we are encouraged by the work accomplished, we remain conscious that much more needs to be done. The challenges of stigma, social isolation and limited opportunities continue to make our responsibility an important one. Our goal remains to ensure that every Shubharthi is treated with dignity and has the opportunity to participate meaningfully in society.

I express my sincere gratitude to the President and Managing Committee, our staff, therapists and volunteers for their dedication and support. I am equally grateful to our Shubharthis and caregivers for their trust and participation, and to our donors and well-wishers whose continued support makes our work possible.

PEER SUPPORT GROUP MEETINGS

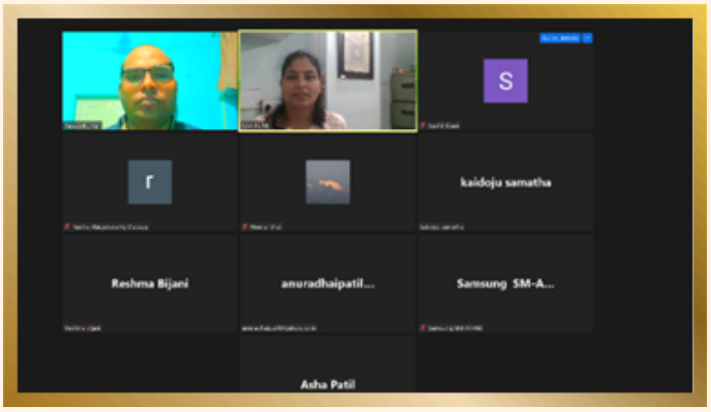

Peer support groups provide caregivers with emotional support, practical guidance, and a safe space to share their experiences. These groups help reduce stress, build resilience, and foster a sense of belonging and togetherness. SAA conducts online Peer Support Group meetings on the 1st and 3rd Saturdays of every month. The 1st Saturday meeting is dedicated to open sharing among caregivers, persons with mental illness (PMIs), and other stakeholders, while the 3rd Saturday features an expert talk on a topic relevant to mental health and caregiving.

These meetings serve as a valuable platform for PMIs, caregivers, and mental health stakeholders to exchange experiences, seek guidance, clarify doubts, and learn from one another. As the saying goes, "No one understands caregiving better than a caregiver." By connecting with others who have walked a similar path, caregivers gain confidence, practical insights, and encouragement to care not only for their loved ones but also for their own well-being.
